

Susan Eubanks

I was diagnosed with breast cancer on my 13th wedding anniversary. I had a single mastectomy and aggressive treatment in a clinical trial at Duke. My treatment included regular chemo, high dose chemo, bone marrow transplant, radiation and 8 years of tamoxifen and Famara.

I served newly diagnosed breast cancer patients through Reach to Recovery for six years. I am currently serving as an Alight Guide (peer mentor) through the Alight Foundation in Greensboro.

I believe that participating in a support group is beneficial to cancer survivors both during treatment and post-treatment. I am a twenty-year member in my support group. I hope my presence gives hope to newly diagnosed patients.
